

Note: Triangulation (faces and vertices) was extracted from volumetric (level set) data using Matlab's isocontour command. It was then processed in Meshlab using subdivision and smoothing of normals, in order to prevent the discontinuities in the normals across the triple junctions from creating rendering artifacts.

(newgrain2.u3d)